

FINAL REQUEST

By: Carl D. Lord

Synopsis

Ethan David, a talented college senior from Kentucky, travels to Ireland during Spring Break, seeking solace and inspiration after a devastating breakup. Amidst the breathtaking landscapes and vibrant culture, Ethan crosses paths with Maura Dougall, an enigmatic and talented Irish singer. Their connection is instant and electric, but their romance is challenged by Maura's guarded heart and Ethan's promising baseball career.

During their initial courtship, the two build an intense relationship filled with passion, separation, and unresolved feelings. After their breakup, Maura reaches out to Ethan a decade later with a mysterious request. Conflicted, he returns to Ireland with his eight-year-old son, Christopher, from a brief failed marriage to uncover the unimaginable truth that Maura is terminally ill with a young daughter, Abhora. Together, Ethan and Maura navigate buried secrets, rekindled love, and the challenges of a future Ethan must face to accept Maura's fate and adopt Abhora.

Final Request is a heartfelt tale of love lost and found, self-discovery, and the enduring bond between two souls once destined to be together.
